THE SOUTHWEST VALLEY

Southwest Las Vegas is one of the fastest growing and desirable business areas in the valley. The Arroyo Regional Shopping Center started the trend and soon after they were followed by a host of other companies such as IKEA, Ainsworth Gaming, UFC, several new car dealerships and a plethora of large industrial complexes. It is now almost impossible to find available land and new commercial and residential developments are popping up everywhere. Freeway access is easy and this location is just a few minutes from the Las Vegas Strip and McCarran Airport.

LAS VEGAS
NEVADA

24/7 - Limited Edition by Peter Lik

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

In a city known for its entertainment, culinary delights, world-class spas, conventions and thrilling adventures, Las Vegas has become more than the 4.2 miles known as the Las Vegas Strip. With more than 50 million passengers traveling through McCarran Airport, Las Vegas is now America's 28th largest city by population and continues to expand.

Unlike crowded cities like New York or San Francisco, Las Vegas is a relatively new city with plenty of building space available. New commercial buildings, multi-family apartments, industrial complexes and new homes are popping up frequently, and home prices have remained affordable even as the economy has improved. Large employers and well known companies are also putting down roots in the Las Vegas Valley such as UFC, Fanatics, Amazon, IKEA, Scientific Games, Allegiant Airlines and VaOpto.

Las Vegas has also become a great place for business and entrepreneurship. Whether that's creating a new business partnership or creating the next innovative startup company, the allure of Las Vegas as a cultural and economic capital are one in the same. In 2012, Zappos CEO Tony Hsieh poured $350 million of his own money into revitalizing Downtown Las Vegas. The goal of the project was to create a haven for new business. Since that time, the Downtown area has seen incredible growth from others in the business community and is thriving among Las Vegas locals and tourists from all over the world.

Las Vegas is now home to several professional sports teams, including Vegas Golden Knights, Las Vegas Aces, Las Vegas Aviators baseball team and in 2020, the home of the Las Vegas Raiders. Cultural institutions like the Smith Center for the Performing Arts and numerous museums offer quiet alternatives to the Strip, while nearby state and national parks – including Lake Mead, Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area, Spring Mountain Ranch State Park and Valley of Fire State Park – offer ample opportunities to enjoy the outdoors.
