Goings On in North Park

HISTORY

North Park’s history dates back to over 100 years ago. In 1900 the street car lines of John D. Spreckels’ San Diego Electric Railway ran down University Avenue and 30th Street, bringing investors and residents who soon created what we know now as the “Busy Corner” and heart of the North Park community.

NORTH PARK FARMER’S MARKET

Every Thursday vendors gather in the Market to sell their handmade arts, locally grown produce and flowers and selections of gourmet food. A unique aspect of the Market is live cooking demonstrations hosted by chefs from North Park’s most esteemed restaurants!

RAY AT NIGHT

Local artists show off their eclectic style every second Saturday of the month at North Park’s Ray at Night. Here people have the opportunity to see artist’s work spread out amongst 15 galleries and watch live street performances throughout the night.

THE OBSERVATORY NORTH PARK THEATRE

The Observatory originated as a vaudeville performance theatre back in 1929. Now it’s considered San Diego’s hippest concert and entertainment venue, with the ability to hold 1,100 fans Sunday through Wednesday nights.

TASTE OF NORTH PARK

A much anticipated annual event, where over 50 restaurants and breweries open their doors to offer samples of their most renowned menu items. This family friendly event allows the entire community to get a taste of what their home has to offer.

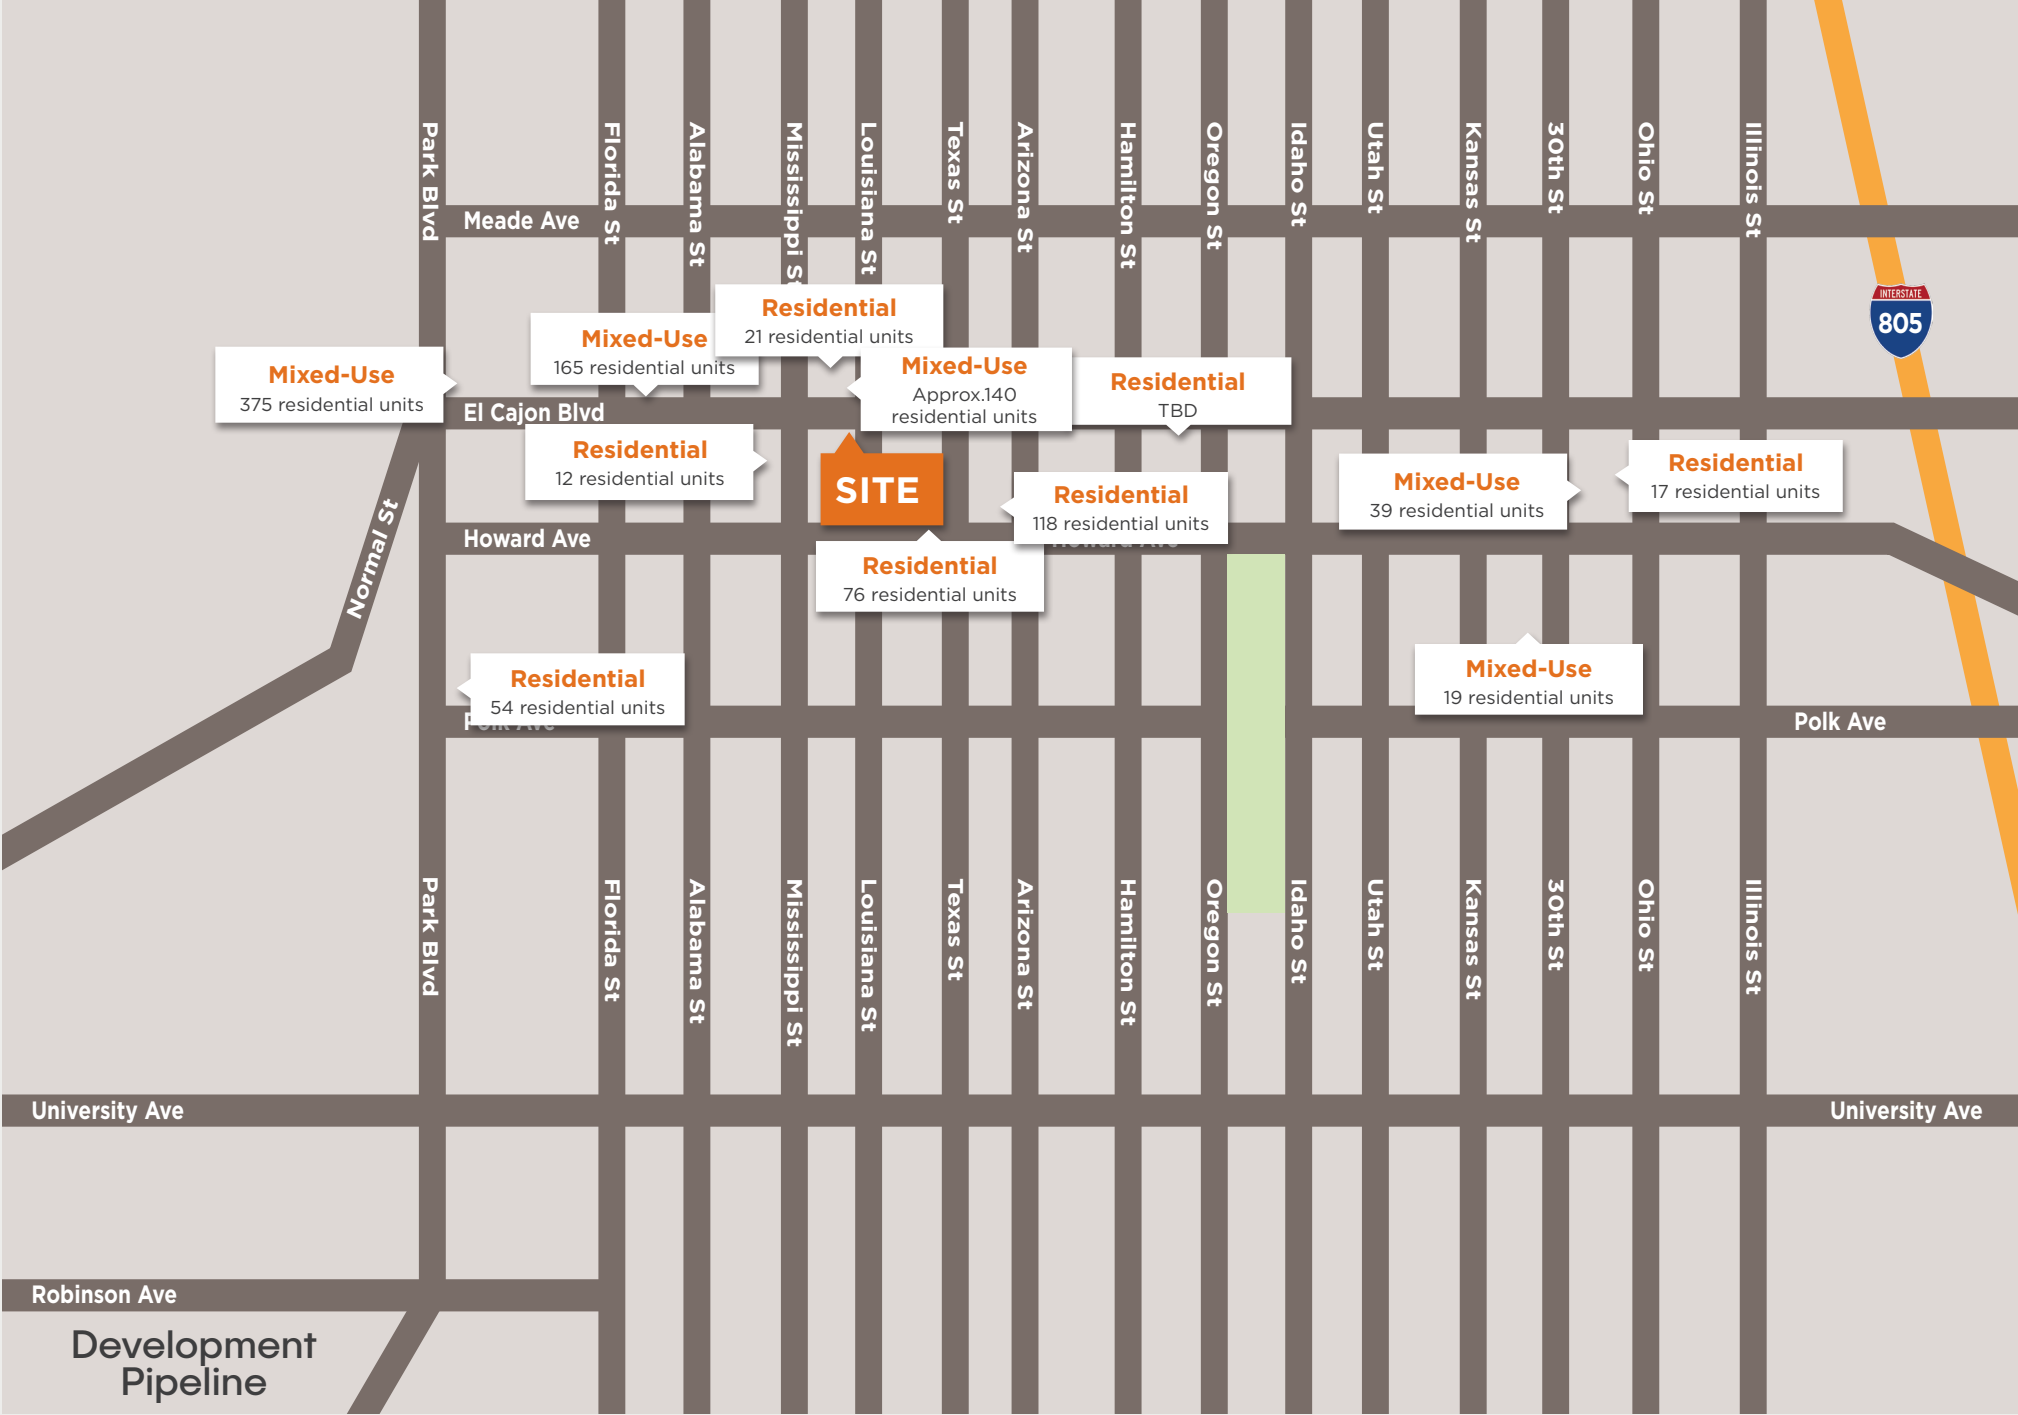

EL CAJON BOULEVARD

Exploding with New Density

San Diego’s City of Villages has grown over the years with El Cajon Boulevard, aka The Boulevard, as its heart, pulsing through existing villages, such as, Hillcrest, Normal Heights, North Park, and University Heights. The Boulevard is not only San Diego’s favorite Boulevard, it is one of the city’s oldest thoroughfares with continual improvements occurring at a rapid pace, attracting more people to this thriving hip dense urban playground.

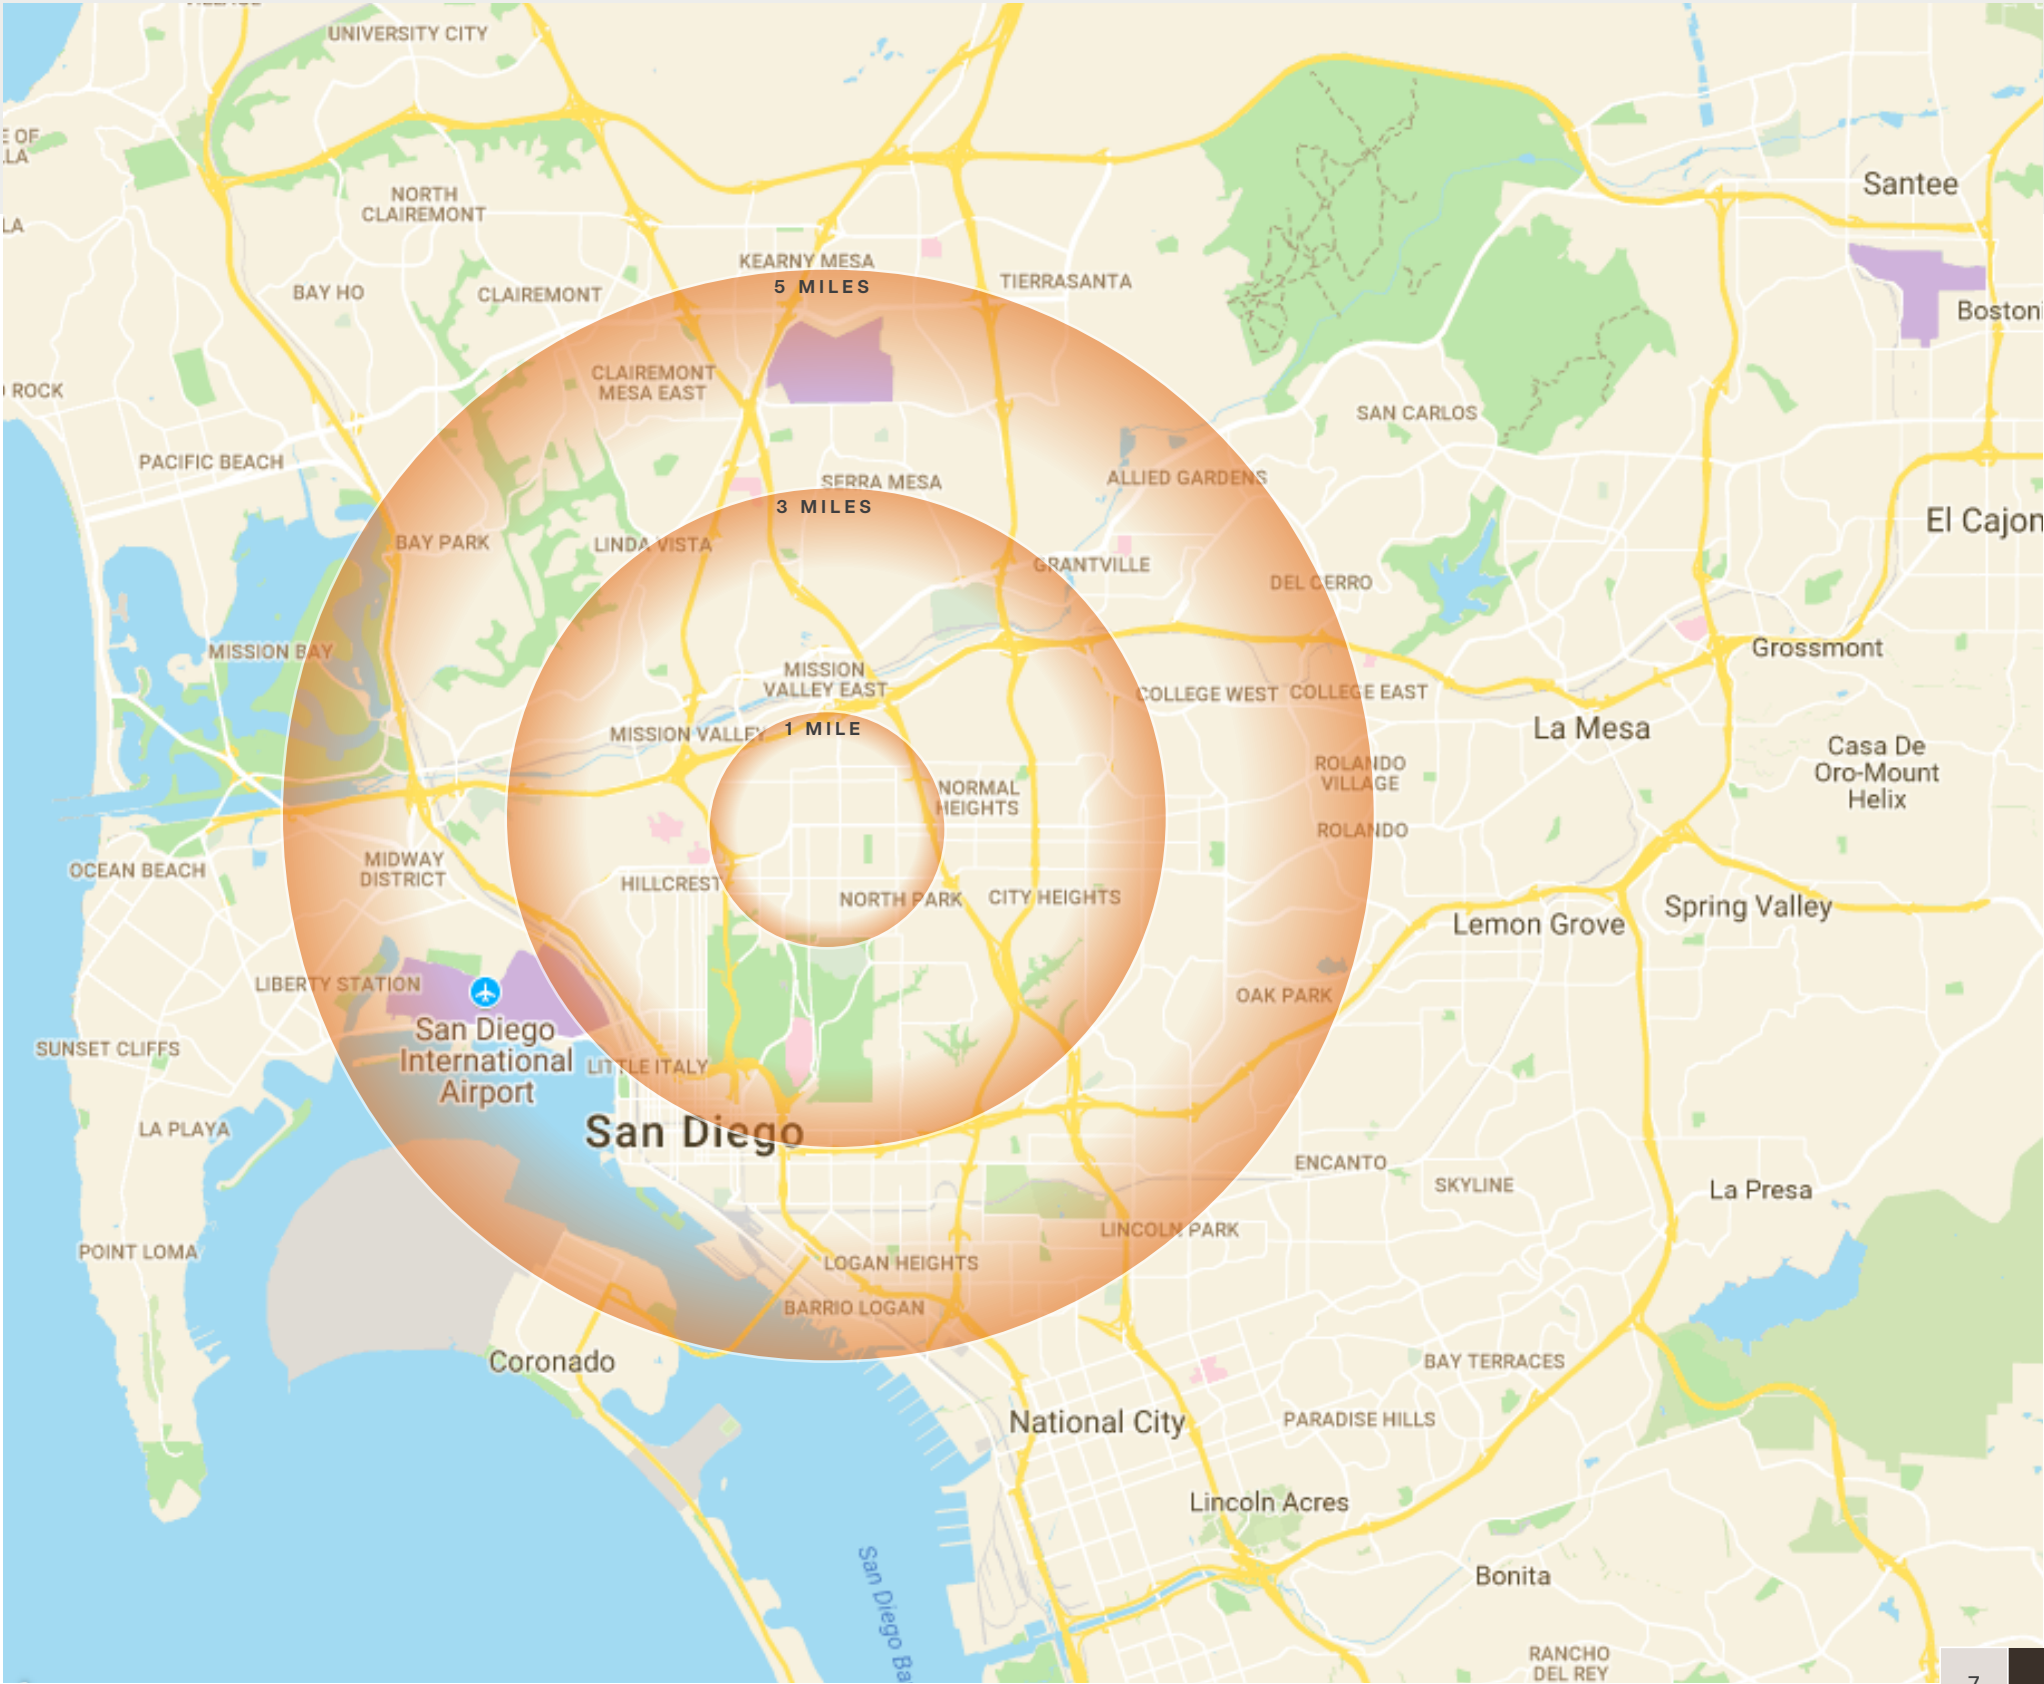

The old days of El Cajon Boulevard signified drive-thrus, cruising, and drag-racing. Fast forward to 2015, where it is better known for its unrivaled blend of ethnic food and culinary delights, artistic acumen and eclectic urbanity. The Boulevard’s evolution has populated it with a myriad of hip bars and restaurants, trendy boutiques and art galleries, making it a favorite San Diego stomping ground today.

Become part of the action at The Boulevard in North Park. The quick gentrification of the area add an extra advantage to this rare and unique restaurant opportunity.
