West Greeley is the primary growth path for Greeley both along Highway 34 and West 10th Street. The corridor in between has an abundance of vacant land and access to infrastructure to support continued development. Medical providers have made a major investment in west Greeley including UCHealth's $180M hospital (2018) and Orthopedic Center of the Rockies' 46,934 sf surgery center (opening May 2024). West 20th Street has long been the primary location for professional office and medical users. This area has a strong demographic base that includes higher income levels. Convenient access to Highway 34 from West 20th Street allows users in this area to have easy regional travel for all of northern Colorado and the Front Range.
