COMMUTE ALTERNATIVELY

Arguably Miami's most pedestrian and bicycle friendly neighborhood—commuting habits in Coconut Grove are just as diverse as its residents and employers. Free yourself from the car by walking to work along the Grove's tree lined streets or cycling atop its numerous bike trails and relaxed streets. For longer commutes, consider Miami's bus system which provides regular service to the nearby Coconut Grove Metrorail Station and major regional hubs.

COCOWALK REIMAGINED

Coconut Grove's resurgence is understood by the property at the center of it all – Cocowalk. Joint venture partners Federal Realty Investment Trust, Grass River Property, and the Comras Company are ready to modernize the center's aesthetic and create Miami's most vibrant people space. Improvements will be complimented by a wholesale rebranding and retenanting strategy that will introduce a dynamic collection of contemporary restaurants and retailers, providing an unparalleled on-site amenity for One Cocowalk's future office users.
