Crieff is a market town in Perth and Kinross, Scotland. It lies on the A85 road between Perth and Crianlarich and also lies on the A822 between Greenloaning and Aberfeldy.

Crieff is the main town of Strathearn lying on the southern edge of the Scottish Highlands. It has been a holiday resort since Victorian times and is the second largest town in Perthshire with a population of almost 6000.

The town spills from the Knock, the wooded hill above, down to the River Earn. James Square with its fountain marks the centre of the town. There are a number of tourist attractions such as Glenturret Distillery (Scotland's oldest) and hotels including the grand Victorian spa - the Crieff Hydro.

From a local context the property is on the northern side of West High Street between its junctions with Comrie Street and Academy Road. West High Street forms the main arterial road through Crieff and as such benefits from high levels of footfall and passing trade.

THE BUSINESS

The business has been operated by the same owner for approximately 10 years and trades as "The Lounge." The establishment forms a popular restaurant within Crieff Town Centre.

The business is for sale due to the current owners relocation. The business is currently performing very well but we believe that there is good scope to increase turnover and profit margins.

Currently, the business opens 5 days per week (Tuesday – Saturday) from 10am to 10pm.

The fit out is to a high and modern standard and is ready for immediate occupation.

The restaurant offers a menu that is well received with the local community. (Copy of menu provided in left image).

We are happy to discuss the accounting information with seriously interested parties.
