Location

Cheltenham is a large spa town on the edge of the Cotswolds, famous for its Regency Architecture. The town has good access to the motorway network with junctions 10 and 11 within 4 miles of the town centre. The A417/9 provides easy access to Swindon and the M4 to London.

The premises are centrally located on Royal Crescent just off Clarence Parade which forms part of the inner ring road system and is in close proximity to the town's famous Promenade. The two buildings form part of Royal Crescent; a terrace of Grade II* listed buildings built at the turn of the 19th Century and believed to be the earliest important Georgian terrace to have been built in Cheltenham (source: Historic England).

Originally private homes, Royal Crescent is now formed largely of office occupiers who benefit from the close proximity to the Promenade and the High Street.

Other nearby occupiers include Cheltenham Borough Council, Hughes

Paddison, Royal Crescent Surgery, Winston's Wish Charity and Star Legal.

Description

Buildings 12 and 13 currently operate as shared office buildings offering a range of office suite sizes with the ability to combine offices to create larger open plan spaces. Each office is fully carpeted with fluorescent strip or box lighting. There is good natural light provided through the many sash windows, another fine feature of these regency buildings. Kitchen and WC facilities are shared with other occupiers. The building has been well maintained, and all offices have been recently redecorated.
