

An aerial photograph of an industrial park. In the foreground, a large, rectangular lot is outlined in red. This lot contains a single-story industrial building with a light-colored roof and a paved area with yellow parking lines. To the left of the red-outlined lot is another industrial building with a brown roof, and to the right is a blue industrial building. The background is filled with numerous other industrial buildings and parking lots, many of which are occupied by trucks and trailers. The sky is clear and blue.
