

Blakey Moor Terrace

FOOD & DRINK OPPORTUNITY

The historic Blakey Moor Terrace, directly opposite King George's Hall – Lancashire's premier entertainment venue - has been lovingly restored and reinvented; fusing history with cutting edge design to create a new landmark hospitality venue.

Blakey Moor Terrace

From new shops, restaurants, cinema complex and a vibrant arts scene, there's plenty going on in Blackburn and we genuinely can't wait to show you.

The completion of Blakey Moor Terrace marks the next exciting opportunity, and we are looking to welcome a new restaurant and bar into the heart of our £50 million Cultural Quarter.

Delivered by Blackburn with Darwen Borough Council in partnership with the National Lottery Heritage Fund and award winning architect Group Ginger, high-quality materials and finishes have been used throughout.

Careful curation of structural works has enabled the creation of a dramatic two-storey volume and impressive mezzanine.

A stunning new curved extension introduces an elegant entrance, enhanced by six double-height windows. Generous timber bays and stepped signage boards along the front elevation, expertly crafted, add character and distinction.

Newly created outdoor spaces offer attractive alfresco areas that will add to the vibrancy of the Cultural Quarter.

Blakey Moor Terrace during major construction

Ideally located in Blackburn's new £50 million Cultural Quarter

Just a minutes walk from Blackburn's busy Mall Shopping Centre, Blakey Moor Terrace is directly across from King George's Hall, a 3,000-capacity concert hall attracting 90,000 visitors annually - due to reopen in Autumn 2026 after a £14m refurbishment. Adjacent is the new 8 screen Reel Cinema and the borough's largest Sports and Leisure Centre.

Blackburn College and University campus, with 7,500 students and 700 staff, anchors the street, making this the cultural, educational and entertainment hub for Blackburn's 154,800 residents and wider catchment of 436,000, with a potential £27 million annual spend on food and beverage.

The growing food and drink scene around the Cultural Quarter is enhancing Blackburn's reputation as a destination for leisure, retail and business. Collaborative projects have revitalised historic buildings for creatives such as The Making Rooms, Prism Contemporary Studios & Gallery, Uncultured Creatives, The Bureau Centre for the Arts and Blackburn Museum and Art Gallery, making the area a hotspot for the creative community, events and happenings. The area hosts both the annual National Festival of Making and the British Textile Biennial, attracting thousands of additional visitors that boost the local leisure economy.

There are around 700 pay-and-display car parking spaces as well as on street parking nearby. Blackburn has excellent transport links, with three M65 junctions providing quick access from Preston, Burnley and the rest of Lancashire, M61, M66 and the M6. The A666 corridor connects from Bolton, Greater Manchester, Yorkshire and the Ribble Valley. The town's public transport network includes rail services from Clitheroe, Rochdale, Preston, York, Blackpool and Manchester.

Unique Opportunity

To support the continued growth of Blackburn's Cultural Quarter, we are seeking a quality restaurant and bar that will complement the existing mix of food, drink and leisure.

Blackburn with Darwen Borough Council offers attractive rental incentives and flexible terms for a well-established and reputable operator.
