DESCRIPTION

Wamphray Primary School is an attractive whinstone and slate building attached to the former School House. It is a substantial building and offers scope for conversion to an attractive dwelling subject to obtaining necessary Planning consents. The site has been identified in Dumfries and Galloway Council's Small Buildings Groups Planning review as being suitable for one infill plot within the curtilage of the school.

The site has an attractive rural location with rural outlooks but is within easy reach of local facilities at Moffat, 6.5 miles and Lockerbie, 9 miles. Access to the M74 is possible at both these towns with easy road travel north to Glasgow and Edinburgh and also to Carlisle and the south.
