LOCATION

DUMFRIES, with a population of around 37,500 persons, is the largest town in Dumfries and Galloway and is south west Scotland's main shopping and administrative centre. The town lies approximately 75 miles south of Glasgow and 34 miles northwest of Carlisle, and occupies a strategic location at the intersection of the A75, A76 and A701 trunk roads. The A709 provides the shortest link to the A74 (M) motorway at Lockerbie, which is some 12 miles distant. Dumfries attracts trade from nearby towns and villages, together with the surrounding rural hinterland. The area also draws in significant tourist trade during the spring and summer months.

The subjects are situated on Huntingdon Road, an established industrial location within Dumfries town centre, which lies adjacent to the main trading estate of St Mary's. The property is located within a complex of units with shared access from Huntingdon Road. Other buildings in the locality are occupied by various local traders, together with Cauldwell Wright, Dingbro, Nissan Crossflags, PTS, Screwfix, Plumb Centre and Holland House Electrical.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise a complex of six attached workshop buildings which are currently interlinked to form one large premises. The buildings provide good workshop or storage space, with part of one of the front units having been fitted out to provide office accommodation. Vehicle access is provided via a number of metal roller shutters.

The main walls are of mostly brick / block construction surmounted by metal truss roofs clad with what appears to be cement board sheeting together with integrated translucent daylight panels. The flooring is of solid concrete construction. The units have an approximate eaves height of 4.00m (13ft 1inch).

The external ground associated with the subjects extends to a shared circulation space / access road and perimeter yard area.
